DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1, 2, 5-9, 11, 14, 16 and 20 are finally rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim(s) are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim(s) must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

Further, the claims are replete with indefiniteness that is too numerous to point out in every instance. The claims are replete with indefiniteness that is too numerous to point out in every instance. The following are examples are provided for the applicant use in making corrections wherever appropriate but not specifically pointed to.

Regarding claim 1, it is not clear what all is encompassed by the phrase "any suitable confectionery". There is lack of antecedent basis for the limitations "the top end". The claim recites phrases such as "in order to add an amusing effect to the candy" as recited in line 3, "instead of tight and rigid as in known lollipops" as recited in line 5, and "at the same time, allowing a substantial clearance between the inserted portion' recited in line 9, which appear to recite only functions or intended uses of the claimed device and do not appear to add any structure to the claims.

Regarding claim 5, it is not clear whether the multiple movable pieces are further structurally defining the claimed device, since the claim recites "optionally". In other words, it is not clear if the claim positively recites the "multiple movable pieces". Further, it appears the claim is a method on how to assembled the multiple movable pieces.

Regarding claim 7, it is not clear what is meant by the phrase "the variety of combinations". In other words, it is not clear if the combination includes more than the elements required in claim 1.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Claims having all the elements of claims 1, 2, 5-9, 11, 14, 16 and 20 and which is definite per the conditions set forth in 35 USC 112, 2nd paragraph would be considered to avoid the prior art of record.

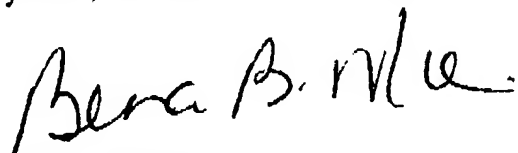

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
